CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Pursuant to a call of the Republican State Central Committee there will be a Republican County Convention at the Court House in the City of Maysville, Ky., on April 6th, 1912, at 1:00 p.m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to the District Convention which meets at Maysville on April 9th, 1912, and the State Convention which meets at Louisville, Ky., April 10th, Ali Republicans are requested to keep this date in raind and be present at the convention.

H. P. PURNELL, Chairman Mason County Republican Committee. Maysville, Ky., March 25th, 1912.

Judge O'Rear is this spring's best joke when it comes to politics.

The coal striker's are merely taking a long needed rest. However, its a very expensive rest to them.

It's not the doctrine of election so much as the subject of collection that keeps some men from Church.

Real progress is not measured by the abstractions of the philosophers, but by the happiness and welfare of a people. A satisfied, happy people are usually a good people; and a good people, in turn, are usually a prosperous people.

Progress.

Strip a people of their material prosperity, we do not mean luxury, and you find unhappy, discontented people, you find progress stopped and the voice of reform stilled.

A Republican administration was in pewer in the nation for the ten years from 1899 until a Democratic house met in Washington in 1911 and began to disturb business conditions. Seven years of that period was under Theodore Roosevelt, the balance under William Howard Taft. In that decade the population of the country increased from 76,000,000 to 92,000,000; its wealth from $88,000,000,000 to over $130,000,000,000; the money in circulation from $2,000,000,000 to $3,100,-000,000; bank eleatings from $84,000, 000,000 to $169,000,000,000; farm production from $3,700,000,000 to $8,900,000, 000; postal receipts from one hundred and two million to two hundred and twenty-four million; annual immigration from four hundred forty-eight thousand five hundred and seventytwo to one million forty-one thousand five hnndred seventy; exports of manufactures from four hundred forty-eight million dollars to seven hundred and sixty-six million dollars; gold production from seventy-nine million dollars to ninety-six million dollars, and so on through a much longer list.

In the ten years the public debt, less cash in the treasury, decreased from one billion one handred and seven million dollars to one billion forty-six million dollars, and per capita from fourteen dollars fifty-two cents to eleven dollars and thirty-five cents. The annual interest on the public debt decreased from thirtythree million dollars to twenty-one million dollars.

And this happened in spite of the extra expenditures for the Panama canal and the growing expenses of the Government.

Academicians may sneer at material progress and seek the millennium in abstractions, but to have real progress we must have mate. rial progress.

The history of the United States during the last decade is a history of real progress. -Commercial Tribune.

Dr. Magnue T. Hopper of New York City, who visited his brother, Mr. C. C. Hopper of Maysville, last week, gave him a sample of Offering the "long ballot" recently voted in the New feet long. That's taking a "long shot" as it were and is the limit on ballot box voting, as P. J. MURPHY. THE JEWELER it takes a skyscraper in which to store the ballots after voting. All of which goes to show that we Americans are fast losing out in common sense and the simple road to the square deal. Dr. Hopper says Taft has everything his own way in the Empire State and will be renominated and reelected by an overwhelming vote.

An Eastern politican and business man of high standing said Sunday at Cincinnati, to The Commercial Tribune:

"This Roosevelt opposition has done more to strengthen President Taft than anything else. He is going to be nominated, Roosevelt, or no Roosevelt. I think the latter is a man who the country cannot trust and I believe the people of the United States think so. We have had too much of the strenuous life and the public is heartily sick of it.

The Lord only knows who the Democrats will nominate. He is the best judge of what their actions will be, for no buman mind can figure it out. They may nominate Wilson who would be their strongest candidate; they may nominate Champ Clark, they may nominate Harmon and then again they may nominate Mr. Bryan. There is no telling what they will do at their Baltimore convention."

Speaking of school examinations, the Springfield (Mass.,) Republican says:

All examinations of course, are unjust. They reward extravagantly one set of qualities like memory, orderliness, presence of mind, tact, and even a preference for the common place. They discriminate against equally valuable qualities like originality, excentricity, inventiveness. They favor talent rather than genins; they mark for failure many whom Nature has marked for success.

And yet as a school process they are much depended upon, and succeed in wearing the patience out of devoted teachers. It is better in Germany, where a teacher's word is taken as to whether the boy is fit to go on to the next grade.

Foolish Philosophy.

Occasionally the guards appointed to watch the devil raise the devil.

Every big Republican politician talks us naturally about "me and Lincoln" as every Democratic politician talks about "me and

How proud the old Revolutionary patriots were of their country in 1776; but if they could see their country now they would burst with pride.

Possibly the most pitiful sight in the world is a fool who is mistaken and in dead earnest.

There wouldn't be so much excitement were it not possible to fool people twenty or thirty times in the same way.

I'm becoming very tired of leaders who can't lead and of freemen who are not free.

PEDDLER WHO LEADS AN ARMY

Should the rebellion inaugurated by Emiliano Zupata result in the overthrow of the Madero government, there would be udded to Mexico's history a chapter that is unique in this Previous revolutions have received their impetus from men of high intelligence and usually of culture. Znpath's most advanced point in the social plane was that of an itinerant merchant, a peddler. Officially his name has been written on the records of his country, prior to the Madero revolution, as that of a private more entry, that recording his desertion from the urmy.

Those unacquainted with Zapata frequently make the mistake of styl-Ing him an liliterate. That is not true. He can read and write, and has the rudiments of a common school education. Added to that, he possesses a shrewdness which, combined with a stubbornness, a personal magnetism and a bravery which no one denies, makes him a person truly formidable. Steadily his forces grew as they had during the days of Mudero's revolt, until on February 1 of this year he found himself at the head of forces to such numbers as to cause the federal government to send against him a large part of the government troops.

of the Ohlo Constitutional convention now in session at Columbus, is an ordalned Congregational minister. A untive of Indiana, Mr. Bigelow, who is forty-two years of age, has passed more than half his lile in Ohio, the state of his adoption. He is a graduate of Western Reserve University at Cleveland (1894). Since 1896 he has been pastor of the Vinc Street church of Cluchmatl (now known as the People's Church and Town Meeting Society). For many years Mr. lligelow has been active in social reform movements. He was a loyal fol lower of the late Tom 1. Johnson o Cleveland, and ten years ago was the unsuccessful candidate of the Demo crntic party for secretary of state. Mr. Bigelow is an officer of the Ohlo Direct Legislation lengue. He is a gifted platform spenker und has campaigned in the state repeatedly. That n man of Mr. Blgelow's type-undoubtedly representative of a large and growing section of public opinion t his state-should be chosen to preside over such a body as the Constitutional convention, indicates that the legal profession, with its conservative traditions, no longer dominates Ohio as it formerly did. The lawyers are in a minority of the present convention.

A more representative body of men could not readily be found than this convention, which began its session on January 9, 1912, to be continued prob ably far into the summer,-Review of Reviews.

RECORD HISTORY OF INDIANS

The American Indian is approaching, if indeed he has not already reached, the last stage of his native existence. Recent reports from Sit-Ka, of the ravages of pulmonary diseases among the Indians In Alasku, where they are leading the lives led by their fathers, indicate that the Indian will disapear from the continent unless he adopts the white man's civilization, and adapts himself to it. In either case the records of his own civilization will be lost unless the government takes immediate steps toward alding the Modern Illstoric Records' association, or some other body engaged in a similar work in preserving some records of the cuiture, arts, industries and domestic and social organizations, the customs, games and pastimes, work and play of the primitive settlers of America. Explorers, missionaries, settlers, Indian lighters, army officers and scientists are securing valuable volumes of information concerning the Red Men. The camera has been called into play. The series of photographs made by E. S. Curlis, for J. Plerpont Morgan, stand first in the museums of America. Now phonographic records are being made of the music and speech of the Indians, something never be fore attempted in an effort to preserve the records of a dying race. It is predicted by Alexander Kouta, chairman of the executive committee of the ordern llistoric Records' association, that these records may prove of in quable worth in tracing the origin of the indian ions after he may have been ensimilated or ceases to exist.

Beyond Question

Some of the overy-day beverages are harmful to heart, nerves and digestion.

Sooner or later, according to the natural strength of the individual, ill results are sure to follow.

All the family can drink with certainty of benefit

The change from coffee or 1ea to Postum has brought health and comfort to iliousands; and the delightful Iflavour of Postum (very like that of good Java) makes the change easy and pleasant.
